From the Charleston Courier.

IF by any chance some single tyrant were to gain a complete dominion over Amer ca, and were to publish an edict by which he forbid, under penalty of death, any person to read a newspaper on any but one side of the question, would not the good people be afflicted and enraged at having themselves put under such a despotic interdict? No doubt they would, and justly too. Yet, whatever may be their astonishment at it, we assert, that this very despotic, mischievous, and, since we must speak truth, irrational interdict, some of them lay upon themselves.

So bigotted, so irrationally fanatic are some, that they push from them all the evidences and arguments on one side, as if they were contagious; as if it were sinful to receive any information respecting political circumstances that comes from the party to which they do not belong. They must in this case either distrust their own judgment, or wish to remain in terror. If the opinions offered to their perusal are false and irrational, they cannot fear that their judgment, being sound, will be corrupted by them : If, on the other hand, they are founded in substantial reason and truth, do they think that they are likely to be the better for shutting their eyes against them? Why, such notions are the very scum of intellectual morbidness, the very essence and spirit of wilfully blind fanaticism. As the fanatical, over zealous Roman Catholics, held it to be a deadly sin to look into an heretical book, so our fanaties of de. mocracy think it guilt to read any thing on the side of stable government. It is not long since a worthy well mean.

ing man from the country, took up a paper without knowing that it was on the federal side, and casting his eyes upon a particular paragraph, exclaimed, " How is this? I can't believe this-I never heard any thing of it before!" He read on a little further-" I can't believe it, said he, for I never saw it." Pray, said a gentleman present, do you often read the papers. Yes, sure, he replied. What papers? On the honest side to be sure, said he! What do you call the honest side? Republican, said he! You mean democratic! Yes! I would not read any of ther lies on the other side for ever so much. How do you know they are lies when you do not read them? Why our papers say so! Well then, my friend, continued the gentleman, do you take that to be a lie which you have read. Certainly, said he, I do-What! our party the cause of the expences of John Adams's army and navy!! I will not believe e'er a federal newspaper writer in the world in it. Well, would you take the authority he replied. Look then, read that letter of his to Mr. Carroll. Ay, ay, said he-Carroll—a good man too! He read, and pondered over the letter for some time. Hah! and has Washington declared that Jefferson's party were the curse of the country? But is this letter true? You may guess it is true, or your papers would take care to deny and controvert it; but knowing that none of you will read or see any thing, however true, on the other side, and knowing too that to deny it would be to make the truth more public, they think it enough to pass it over in silence. Ecod, said he, shaking his bead, in what is sometimes called a brown study, I could not have thought this. Then it appears that there are many true things we don't hear. Things may well go wrong at this rate, said he: If this is the way we are all deceived, the country must go to ruin at last. He then added, I am determined to examine both sides of the question in future.

If the same obstinate error could be put down in every citizen; if they could be persuaded to hear both sides, the counsels of the country would soon be very different from what they are. For alas how can they judge rightly of the merits of a question who will listen to the proofs only on one side?

From the same.

The term Jacobin, is sometimes taken in a more general and extensive sense than is meant. It is by no means applicable to the whole body of anti-federalists; some of whom in the best virtues that honor the human race stand as high as any men existing. It is however beheved that it is as impossible for a ray of virtue to brighten the gloomy bosom, or warm or soften the cold flinty heart of a Jacobin properly so called, as for a moun- adherents to the constitution of the's tain of ice to emit heat, or a fire to flame country. But instances have occurs harmless and inoperate in a barrel of gunpowder. Although differing in political opinions with anti-federalists, we can respect what we think their errors, because we can readily conceive them to be some. times founded in sincerity and good motives. We know that in that body there are degrees even of error, from the man who first starts off from the whole mass of federalism down to him who is deceived into the opinion that pure democracy is the best government. To the very last of those we declare that our most inimical feeling is regret for their errors. Who are they, then, it will be asked, against whom are levelled the shafs of reprobation We answer, against their deceiver, against what we call the democratic agents. A. gainst that wicked, designing character. which by indefatigable industry and activity under the guidance of low cunning, does more mischief in a day, than wisdom can repair in a week -which by the avowed co-operation and undisguised instrumentality of unabashed falshood, puts truth and all her army of virtues to route, and trample them under foot - which pam pers up the people with false notions into a bloated, morbid plethora of sel opinion, and endeavors to flatter every individual that he is a king only in order to make him a slave - which by the dexterous ma nagement of the influence over the public mind thus dishonestly obtained, is gradu ally mouldering away the cement of the constitution, tumbling down all the ramparts which it has in its provident wisdon thrown up for the defence of the citizen' rights, and actually scaring away justice from its appointed sanctuaries: which pretend to the science of government, while they know not its very first rudi ments, and build that pretence upon a superficial sketch taken from the common place books of superior malcontents of the abuse only to which in common with every thing in human institution government must be liable. In short, the unprincipled demagogue that character which has laid France particularly, and all the finer parts of Europe in ruins; which has let loose the furies of Pandemonium upon the civilized world, and spread far and wide a conflagration that ages will not extinguish; which is regarded now in every enlightened coun try of Europe, even where it was once most favorably received, with horror and detestation, and which, hooted with one general shout of execration from the shores of the old world, scatters itself over this free land, spreading the pestilent contagion it is no longer able to spread there-" Corrupted itself and corrupting all a: bout it." The Jacobin - this is the cha racter aimed at, when reprobation is urg of Washington? Ay, to be sure I should, ed with warmth. The anti federalists in the lump are not pointed at; it is their crafty agitators who are objects of

From the Uttica Patriot,

FEDERALISTS have been charged with designs hostile to the liberties of the people, in attempting to give undue strength to the executive branch of the government; in attempting to give it an influence too powerful, which would one day enable it to overleap the barriers provided by the constitution. This charge originated from the circumstance, that te deralists have been constantly engaged in supporting the constitutional powers of the executive, against the encroachments of those, who would not hesitate, to precipi tate this, with the other branches of gov. ernment, into the destructive vortex of a pure democracy. The real friends of their country exerted every nerve to preserve the constitution, in its pristine excellence, and to establish every branch of the government in the exercise of the powers, vested by this instrument. The demarcation of the powers of the different departments of government, was distinctand the letter and spirit of the constituti on justified the federalists in the principles for which they contended. It was from the honorable exercise of this duty, that they have been unjustly charged, with attempting to infuse an energy into the government, which was not contemplated by the constitution; with strengthening the executive; and with harboring designs to impose on us the substance of a monarchical government. By a candid review of the principles contended for by federalists, it will be seen that on all constitutional questions, they have been warm supporters of the government, and firm during the federal administration of the government which afford sufficient evidence of the disposition of a party who were then in the minority, to weaken if not destroy the constitutional barriers es. tablished between the legislative depart. ments of the government. This disposi. tion was manifested, by the censures that were passed on the conduct of president Washington, who in the just exercise of his constitutional powers, issued a proch. mation of neutrality, without convening or submitting to the guidance of the le gislature. The arguments used at that time to induce him to submit himself to the will of the legislature, in the discharge of his high and important duty, are well

The intrigues of a French minister to effect this object, cannot be forgotten, But his discerning mind prompted him to the measure, which by its issue proved its wisdom. Yet this measure was stig. matized with the denomination of a royal proclamation. The constitutional power of the executive was attacked by democrats and defended by federalists. Under the solemnity of an loath to support the constitution, it was their bounden duty to defend it. Another instance in which the disposition of a party was manifest in pursuit of this object, was a dermer effort, as bold as it was unprincipled -in defiance of the express provisions of the constitution, they contended for no. thing less than a negative in the house of representatives upon all treaties; which would in fact go to destroy the power vested by the constitution, in the President of the United States to form and conclude treaties, controuled only by the advice and consent of the Senate.

This attempt was met with a firm and fuccessful relistance on the part of the federalifts, and the conflicutional power of the executive was preferred from theen. croachment of democracy. For conduct of this nature, have the adherents to fede. ralism been censured, and the laudable exertions of wisdom and talents to fecure the permanence of an excellent govern. ment, fligmatised as base attempts" to impose on us the substance of the British government, and to affimilate us to the British model in its corrupt parts,"-Since the alcendancy of democracy in our councils, the evidence of this disposition, in a party unfriendly and indeed hostile to the constitution, has been glaringly exhibited - Witness the destruction of the judiciary

From fuch regulations as are complained of in the following paragraph, and from the prevailing fever having made dreadful havoe in Norfolk, for fome years last past, the citizens of Alexandria, may have some grounds for caution in commu. nication there. The Herald of the 20th instant fays-" Notwithstanding the certain accounts of the Fever raging in New-York, and although we have given hints for precaution in this place, yet no steps are taken to prevent its being imported here. We fee no proclamation for the perforamance of Quarantine, nor any Superintendant in discharge of the duries of his office; but this is just as usual. Should the fever make its appearance among us, we shall then fee the proper officer nearly expiring from exertion, and we shall talk of nothing but paving the streets, until the cold weather fets in; then the subject will drop until the next fall scason, when fear will again bring the thing to our recollection. There is not a town on the continent for generally defective in Police, nor a town that fuffers more from it than Norfolk. Until it has a good Police it can never rife to the estimation its local fination and advantages would enfure it."

The French generals adopting in their speeches to their armies, pompous words, and vain flastery is not new, however Bonaparte may arrogate to himself the merit of this glorious invention. Milton has been proved to have borrowed ideas from the Grecians, why may not a French Conful imitate a Perfian Prince.

In looking over an old publication, we found the following address, which we add, by way of comparing the ancient tyrannic mode of warfare, to that of the modern system of the fons of liberty and equality.

Magnanimous Persians, heroes of the race

" With the aid and support of the God whom I ferve, I have reduced you. The ara of the most high bent my bow, his Almighty hand firengthened my arm, and directed my arrows, and I have subdued you, and dispersed my enemies. It is this God, the God of my fathers, whom I invoke: Before his adorable face I fall profrate, as did formerly Abraham, Ifaac, and Jacob. Fear nothing from me, ye illustrious iffue of heroes; for I will deal with you as a father of the family of Caleb and Nun: As your captain, I shall always march at the head of your armies, and as your general, I will go forth to chastise your enemies and mine. Yes, when the inhabitants of the earth shall provoke your bravery, and force us to declare war against them, I will go before you, under the guidance of the God whom I worship, and lead you to the extremities of the sea, from the Euphrates to the Mouth of the Ganges, and as far as the mountains of the East. I will give you a fignal which you are as yet ignorant of, and you shall march under a banner which you are strangers to."

But all the labored harangues of Prince Heraclius, or Conful Bonaparte, vanish in the smoke which begot them, on being compared with the following speech of an Highland chief to his treops, immediately before going into battle :

" Ma bra Lads, "Ken ye yon tolks, in yonder glen," "right weel we ken," replied the foldiers-"then", exclaimed the chief, "if ye danna kill them, they'l kill ye."

The cession of West Floridda, as me n tioned in letters from our ministers at Paris, is we understand an affair of confiruction. Louisianais ceeded by France to the United in the same manner as received from Spain. The ancient boundaries recognized to these transactions are found to comprise West Florida. The latter is of course included in the present understand it is so considered both by Mr. Livingston and Mr. Monroe, there can be no doubt of our obtaining from Spain an eafy terms, the trifling refiduary territory. Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Bourdeaux, to his friend in Boston dated

Since the declaration of war we have had much trouble with American feamen; many left their veffels to enter on board French privateers. The conful was determined to prevent such conduct, and applied to the officers of government, to know if it was allowed to captains of priva teers to entice seamen from their respective veffels by making them large offers. They affered the confal than it was not allowed, and that they would lend their affishance in preventing such conduct. The com. missary of Marine very readily gave his aid, and not only threatened the captains with imprisonment, but flopped at the Conful's requelt, the Bland, a French privateer, (formerly the America of Sa. lem;) for a week, until the captain had delivered to the Conful 16 American feamen he had hipped, who are now in prison, and will be sent home, I believe, to take their trial as an example.

Fifty other American seamen, who were about entering on board corfairs, were arrested by the Commissary of Police by the Conful's request, and after a few days confinement, were distributed on board the different American vessels, and are not allowed to come on shore. With out these severe steps not an American vessel would have had a man to go to sea with; and had the same measures been purfued here the last war, fo many of our feamen would not have fallen into the hands of the British.

The report that General Rochambeau had arrived at the eastward from C. Francois is unfounded. We have conversed with a French gentleman, passenger in the schr. Diana, capt. Nichols, who left the Cape on the 4th instant. He informs, that there were provisions enough in the place to last eight months, and that it was the determination of General Rocham. beau to hold it to the last extremity. No late intelligence has been received from Aux Cayes or Jacmel. It was expected the inhabitants of Port Republican would be compelled to abandon that place and

If this flatement is correct, and we I retreat to the Cape, as they were short of provisions, and the English prevented alsupplies by water, and the blacks had possession of the whole of the interio General La Landes, came passenger in the Diana, and will proceed in a few days for France.

(N. Y. Daily Adv.)

How long are we to be pestered with he popin jay chatter of the partizans of the Executive government upon the Louisiana Memorial and Negociation? Why we shall by and by have the honour f an oration decreed to that great chip of the dipomatic block who so keenly came round those stupid fools, Talleyrand and Bonaparte!-Or perhaps a triumph, as was decreed to the Emperor Caligula when, after having employed his army in gathering cockle shells, instead of fighting the enemy, he returned to Rome with the spoils. Probably we shall hear of the Heaven born Negociator, by and by, as no one before this event suspected him of much diplomatic skill. And why not? Lord Chatham first used the expression, and applied it to Lord Clive for his victo. ry at Plassey. Yet every man who knows the military of India knows that Lord Clive was, during the whole battle of Plassey, so fast asleep in the Plasseyhouse that he did not hear the ratiling of the artillery. Lord Chatham's son, the present Mr. Pitt, was hailed by the nation, and till the day he left office, al lowed to be a Heaven-born minister: Yet we see he was deserted, with all his Heaven-born abilities, the other day, in favour of a creature of his own:

"Descried in his gractest need

" By those his former bounty fed," It is truly applicable to him in a varie. ty of ways. Then why may we not sup pole the Louisiana Negotiator Heaven born too-that he has the fortune of Heaven born is true: For long after his Memorial had been toffed into the condemnation hole of the French cabinet, and thence again toffed through all the companies of Paris and London; after it had been the foort of the witty, and the wonder of the wife-long arter folly had been tired of laughings and wisdom of tharing at it-while an ar mament lav in the ports of France and Holland ready to fail to Louisianna—all notion of ceding it scounted by the Conful-all hopes of it being ceded de unct in our Negotiator's bosom, comes a Heaven born, or at least a Heaven fent fleet from England; blocks up the whole of the ar mament-forbids it to move, and com pels Bonaparte to make a virtue of necef fity disembark his troops, and finger our Grand Diplomatift's cash. Is not this the truth? - If it is, with what face can the party pretend to affume any other merit in the transaction than that of good fortune?

Under a Decree of the faid Court, We the Commissioners will expose to PUBLIC SALE, for ready money, on the premises, at 12 o'clock, on Friday the 30th day of September next, called Mount Salus, alias, Millthrope, lying in Fairfax county, on D fficult and World Trapruns, containing by Deed 550 acres & by furvey 673 acres. The Mantion House is on a high healthy and agreeable fituation, convenient to which are springs of good water - The house is 40, by 18 feet, two rooms on a flour, with a nine feet paffage and stair case, two brick chimnies, with a fire place to each room, a plazza the whole length of the front, a cellar 40 by 18 walled with stone and divided into two apartments. There are leveral [mail buildings near the Mansion House and gar den. There are also a valeable Merchant and Grift Mill, Saw Mill, Diftillery, Miller's House and Overfeer's House. The Mill House is 40 by 30, two stories high, half of the lower story of stone, the other part framed work, and covered with shingles. There are one pair of Burr, and one pair of Cologne flones, three ofting cloths almost new, and one screen, all now in use in manufacturing wheat and grinding grift. The still house 40 by 30, one flory high, walls of flone and thingled roof, the floors, planked, the upper laid for malting grain, and troughs fixed round the whole house constructed to carry water to every veffel which may need it. Three fills and one boiler can be worked to ad. vantage in faid house. The waters on Wolf Trap, on which the mill and faw mill fland, are conflant ftreams. The fituation for country custom, or purchasing wheat is exceeded by none in the county or neighborhood, not being more than 17 miles from Alexandria, and 13 from George Town, where there are excellent markets for country produce of every description; and about 14 miles from the city of Washington. The land is fertile and productive, and the foil well adapted to receive improvement, from the use of plaister of Paris. There are upwards of 3000 pannels of fence on the land, and about 160 or 170 acres of well timbered land belonging to the tract. There have been nearly 20 acres of timethy made, lying on Wolf Trap and Difficult runs; 50 acres more may be made at a small expence. This farm enjoys many natural advantage which are unnecessary for us to mention, it being taken for granted that any person wishing to buy such property will avail themselves of the opportunity of viewing the premises, previous to the day of fale.

THAT VALUABLE & EXTENSIVE FARM,

The terms of which are, one third of the money to be paid on the day of fale, (at which time deeds will be made the purchaser) one third in fix months, and the other third in twelve months, with the interest according on the two-last payments from the day of fale. A deed of trust will be expected to secure the last payments.

Some informality in the decree prevented the fale agreeably to the former notice. This defect being obviated by the parties, the property will most certainly be fold as now notified.

Captain James Wiley, refiting | near the land, will shew the premises, and also a plat of the furvey, which is left with him for the information of those concern-

The ritle papers will be exhibited on the day of fale.

MATPIMONY.

IT is much to be regrected but indisputably certain, that many persons of both sexes are deterred from entering into the married state, by Secret Infirm ties, which delicacy forbids them to disclose; and there are not a few who bang already married, are rendered mile able for want of those tender piedges of mu ual love, without which happiness in this state is at least very precarious. It has been afcertained beyond a doubt that those circumstances are occasi med by general or partial relaxation or weakness in eather fex, and it is equally certain that the genuine A ROMA FIC LOZENGES OF STEEL are th beit, if not the only remedy ever discovered for this species of debility. When caken into the ftomach, they imme sately diffolve and diffuse themselves like a vapor skrough every pore producing effects at once delightful, fulutary and permanent. When the fourk of life begins to grow dim, the circulation languid, and the fa culties paralyted, these Lozenges are found to give tone to the nerves, exhilizrate the animal fpirits, invigorate the body, and re-animate the whole man. When aversion to exercise, loss or depravity of appetice, and palled countenance, indicate approaching confumption, the delicate female will be preferved and restored to health and fociety by the benign influence of this medidicine. When the delufions of imagination, or the force of bad example, have tempted unguarded youth into the dangerous labyrinth of fecret fenfuality, debilitated his body, and impaired his understanding, these Lozenges will protect him from lingering difeafe, the infirmities of premature old age, and a wretched difficution amidit the agenizing reflections of confeious guilt,-When the fons and darghters of dillipation have brought on themselves debility, relaxation, inbecility, and a long train of nervous affections manifelled by impaired memory, anxiety, agitation, tremours, languor, palenels, emseracion, indigettion, apathy in men; hysterics, spasms, loss of apperite, irregularity, weakness, abortion, pains in the back, cheft, occ. in women; thefe lozenges will reftore health and vigor to the debilitated frame, and cheerfulness and animation to Price One Dollar per packet. Particular directions for their use are fealed up with each, but as the great benefit to be derived from them can only be fecured by having them genuine, the public are requested to observe that the figuature of Meffes, Thos. Stokes and Co. are affixed to each packet, without which mark of authenticity, they are not genuine.

Dr. Atkinfon's genuine Effence of Mufterd. Rheumatism in every stage, instantly submits to its penetrating powers, which has inceeded in curing the most desperate cases of rheumatism gout, luerbago, feiatica, numbnefs, parly and complaints of the flomach, after various medi cines have proved ineffectual. It is prepared in pills, and also in a fluid state. The pills are parcicu'arly ferviceable in flatulences and indigetti on, and by their faintary operation, promote perspiration, and gradually undermine the most obstinate rheumatism; and, at the same time, invigorate the debilitated conflictation. The fluil effence is a remarkable active embrocation, neceffirily used with the pills, and as generally excites a tingling fensation; it removes the causes of pain, by bringing on a circulation in the parcs affected; by this means, frozen limbs, the feverett sprains and bruises, old strains and relaxations, are generally cured by a few applications. The genuine is dutinguished from counterfeits, by the figuature of Thomas Stokes and Co. being a fixed to each bottle; without which mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

The genuine Scotch Itch Ointment.

The only medicine that cures this difagreeable diferie, by one application, so many thousands having experienced its efficacy; it is unnecessary to add any more arguments in its lavor, but to caution the public that the name Thomas Stokes and Co. is affixed to each box, without this mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

Dr. Bardwell's genuine Eye Water.

A I vereign remedy for all difeases of the yes; speeding removes influmnations, dimness, tchings, and films; it never fails to cure the fe maladies which frequently succeed the measles, finall-pox, and tever; and is an unparalleled trengthener of a weak fight.

Dr. Hunter's genuine Antibillious Pills. An agreeable and certain preventive of tha oredifp fition to inflammatory and malignant fever, which prevails at particular feafons of the year. The rapid and increasing demand from every part of the United States, and the West India iflan is, is the best evidence of their superi or excellence.

CHAMBAUD'S

Antasthmatic Lozenges. A radical cure for coughs, colds, afthmas and consumptions, difficulty of breathing, &c. &c.

Mr. CHAMBAUD, the fole propri etor of this medicine, bas the fatisfaction to announce that they have been the means of ous state of health. In common colds this valuable medicine, are carnelly recommendate of health. Superior a perspiration a trial. Few are the cases in which it has that they generally are eradicated in a few bours. Coughing, being prolonged by that convultive symptom termed the tickling in the throat, it shortens its duration by promoting sleep a . d strengthening the constitu tion. Pulmonary complaints, affecting the breaft and lungs; these affected with them experience an almost immediate relief .--Afthmas and confined confumptions have repeatedly been erudicated by them. Infants in the broking cough, and avomen during pregnancy, may take them without the least fear of danger, and with the greatest expectation of relief, nor can it be admini-Bered at an improper Jeafon.

Dr. BARDWELL'S Annodyne Essence, for all kinds of Head Achs.

THE renounced virtues of the Annodyne effence, is now so generally known, that it is no presumption in the Proprietor, to fay, that Head Achs, arising from whatever cause, or however violent, instantly Submit to its penetrating poquers. This in valuable Annodyne, has frequently succeeded after the best advice, and every other remedy had failed; by its falutary operation, it insensibly promotes circulation and perspiration, and thereby prevents the return of the most obstinate periodical head

SPRING PHYSIC.

DR. HUNTER's Anti-Billious Pills are unquestionably proved by ample experience to be the most effectual remedy, at the same time the most innocent, pleafant, and convenient me dicine for the cure of feurvy, fcorbutic cruptions, leprofy, and other diforders originating from a corruptive state of the blood. The remark bl cure of Mr. Ellitton, of Albany, who had been twelve years tormented with a most distressing fcorbutic complaint, as also that of Thomas Johnson, a labouring man, in the service of Mr. Van Rensselaer, who was afflicted with a must horrid leproly, must have convinced evey one who has read the particulars of these cates, befides which, a variety of proofs of their efficacy, authenticated by perfons of character and respectability are open to the examination of every inquirer. These must naturally be supposed to have their due weight, and supercede the necessity of any further comment from the Proprictor, yet, he prefumes to affert, that the real merits of this vegetable preparation will, on a fair trial, plead more forcible its own recommendation than any thing which can be laid of it,

Where also may be had, Atkinfon's Worm actroying Lozenges .-These Lozenges not only destroy worms where they exist, but effectually prevent their return. These families who have followed Dr. Atkin fon's advice, and used them in the spring and Fall among their children, as their common physic, have now the happiness to find those children, which appeared fickly and confumptive, in the bloom of health, being entirely delivered from those dreadful vermin.

Sparta, Mount Pleafant,

March 27, 1803. We hereby certify, that our daughter, about 4 years of age, has been very unwell and in a bad state of health for these last two years. We always suspected that she had worms and had given her several worm medicines, without any good effect, so that we despaired raising her till of late. Hearing of tome furprifing cares being performed by Atkiufon's worm defireying lozenges, we purchased a packet of them, and administered them according to the directions. The first dofe brought away only one worm, and with it a quantity of flimy, effensive mat ter; the fecond brought away four monftrous thick worms nearly half a yard in length; and the third dose, a large quantily of a flimy, offentive matter. The vomiting and purging, with which she was frequently troubled have ceased-her apperite has become regular, and has over fince enjoyed a perfect state of health, for which we are entirely indebted to this excellent medicine.

DR. BARDWELL'S

Re-animating Solar Tincture, or Pabulum of Life,

Of the cure of Confumption and Asshma Disorders in the Stomach and Bowels, Convulfions, Cholic and Difentery.

Cautious in investigation, and attentive enquiry into the nature and laws of the animal economy, having long confirmed an opinion in the mind of the inventor, that all the maladies abovementioned, derive their origin from the fame cause, indirect debility, or consequent weakness, the analogy of their fource, by a natural inference suggested the idea of their removal by the fame means; the refult was the dif covery of the Re-animating Solar Tincture, which after having been employed in thousands of inflances, with the most unexampled and allonishing success, has obtained the wormest approbation of charcters of the first respectability both in and out of the profession; the proprietors can confidently recommend, as one of the most certain, efficacious, and pleasant remedies ever discovered by man or offered to the world. Price I dollar, and I dollar 50 cents per bot tle. The large bottle contains nearly two of the small. Copious Directions for their use are fealed up with each bottle.

Specific Drops for Deafness. FOR many years have these drops been used with amazing fuccefs, in DEAFNESS & HARD. NESS of HEARING. Those who are unacreliewing many persons in a most precars quainted with the great relief afforded by this been of great fervice, and very often period
